What Happens to Old Railroad Ties

The railway passenger who sees piles of worn-out cross ties piled up and set on fire by repair gangs along the right of way sometimes wonders why this is done and asks why people are not allowed to use them for fuel. The Pennsylvania Railroad has issued an information pamphlet dealing with this subject under the title:

"In the first place, it is far from true that all the old ties are burned. A considerable number are constantly being sold to persons living on or near the right of way, who buy them at nominal prices, usually ten or fifteen cents apiece, and use them for firewood."

"That is about as far as the railroad company has been able to go, thus far in finding an outlet for worn-out ties. Such a method of disposal is practicable only in those cases where the ties can be delivered at a public crossing, or other point where they can be obtained safely by the users, and where the cost of so delivering them is not greater than the nominal prices obtainable."

"The Company cannot sanction the public going promiscuously over tracks and forested yards to gather up old ties. To do so would be practically letting down the bars against trespassing on the tracks, an evil which has been the cause of about half of all the fatal accidents on railroads in the United States."

"Efforts have been made to intercept dealers in firewood in buying the old ties, but not thus far with much success. The causes appear to be that the old ties are often dirty; that they contain more or less stone, grit and slag wedged in the cracks, which might injure the saws used in cutting them; that in many cases they are badly decayed; that they are dried out, and that their fibre is more or less crushed so that they burn out too quickly. These are among the reasons assigned by dealers who have not been willing to pay the railroad company enough to cover the cost of collecting the ties and delivering them to a point at which they could be removed."

"Efforts have also been made to dispose of old ties in a number of other ways, including sale for wood-pulp purposes, for the extraction of chemicals, for burning and sale of the ashes for fertilizer, and for manufacture into charcoal, but without success in interesting parties engaged in these occupations."

"The Company will be glad to continue, and wherever feasible to extend, the present practice of selling old ties to individual consumers for nominal prices at points where they can be delivered without danger to the purchasers and without costing for collection and transportation, more than they are worth as fuel. The management will welcome any other suggestions by which more of the old ties could be usefully disposed of or made available for commercial or industrial purposes."

The Canadian Pacific Railway goes further than the Pennsylvania Railroad and gives away ties to any who will take them, such giving being guarded with the necessary safeguards as to trespassing. The experience of the Canadian Pacific is that ties are taken only where there is no standing timber in the vicinity, and that in many cases the farmers taking the ties do not use them for firewood but for general purposes around the farm, indicating that the value of old ties as firewood in this country is extremely small.

The Road To Success

In a letter received recently from a Saskatchewan farmer, in which he outlined the rather disastrous results of his farming operations during the season of 1921, particular reference was made to the damaging effect of the wet weather which prevailed around threshing time, and which, he said, was the finishing touch and converted what promised to be a profitable year's work into an actual loss. But, he concluded, "the rains which caused me so much loss this year put the soil into great shape for next year!"

It is not always easy to look for and find the silver lining to the dark clouds which overhang and threaten disaster, but it is nevertheless the sensible thing to do. Worry has ruined many a person and killed many others, but worry never yet helped anyone nor advanced them along the path to happiness and prosperity. The farmer quoted above had the right idea. What had happened, had happened. It was past and gone, and could not be helped. Let the dead past bury its dead! But all was not lost. That which had happened in immediate loss had nevertheless laid the foundation for future gain—if one had but the optimism and courage to hold on and take advantage of it.

This should be the spirit of the men and women of the West today on the threshold of another season of activity in the banner industry of the West. There have been hard times, but there is no reason why hard times should continue. Hard times, it should be remembered, is not the chronic condition of this country, but the exception. By the exercise of courage and industry the people of Western Canada can quickly bring about a rapid and complete transformation if they but emulate the farmer we have quoted and set to work in 1922 just as if the past year had been all that anyone could have desired it to be.

This year should see all our people, in city and country, taking their courage in both hands and setting to work with determination and a will to succeed. There should be nothing timid in the way the opportunities which another season presents are grasped. A letter received from a second farmer contains the ringing declaration that he is going to seed the largest acreage this year he ever put in, because, he says, he needs the largest possible return he can get from this year's labor to offset last year's losses. That's the spirit which defies and in the long run makes failure impossible.

By this we do not mean that every farmer should seek to put the last possible acre into crop. Unless the land has been properly cultivated and prepared it would be inviting disaster to do so. But we do mean that the fact of last year's losses should not discourage anyone from going ahead as they would have done had the out-turn of the 1921 season proven satisfactory. Every man in city, town and country who is in a position to do so should not only work himself but should courageously proceed to provide as much work as he possibly can for others. If everybody will only stop talking hard times and courageously set in motion the one little wheel he himself controls, it will not be long before the revolving of the many little wheels here, there and everywhere will start the larger wheels of industry and commerce revolving all over the country. Starting slowly at first, they will increase their speed and the momentum thus gained will, in a space of time so brief as to prove positively startling, provide work in abundance for all.

Canada has plenty of assets, and Western Canada particularly so. The only thing lacking at the moment is confidence; an indomitable courage to go ahead. The Canadian dollar which has for so long been at a discount, has rapidly gained during the past few weeks and is now almost at par. The British sterling is steadily climbing upward. Sure signs of a return to better times. The world's needs are as great, or greater, than ever before. All Canada is suffering from a lack of housing accommodation. Yet we have the lumber in abundance and the workmen to build. Confidence and courage would soon put this army of artisans at work and one of the Dominion's pressing needs would be met.

Taxation is heavy, but that cannot be helped. It is the price we are paying for the continued liberty and civilization we enjoy and which was endangered a few short years ago. Our liberty and civilization is beyond all price, and is worth much more than we are now called upon to pay for it. And these taxes are only burdensome because as a people we are not producing a sufficient amount in excess of them. The cure for the ills of today is not fault-finding, theorizing or worry. It is constructive hard work that will put the world right. It is not the men who are working hard who are complaining or threatening trouble, but the men who want to work and cannot obtain employment. Therefore, let every citizen go to work to create work in order that there may be employment for all.

Only so can good times, the desire and hope of all, be brought about and maintained. The worker is happy; the idler never. Discontent prevails, not in the busy home and community, but in the slothful one. Therefore, Canadians, to work and see to it that work is provided for all.

Farmers' Timber Supply In Northern Parts Of The Prairie Provinces

The various phases of work which have their sources in Canada's forests, combine to make the lumber industry one of the most important of the Dominion, and the total commercial cut together with the various allied industries utilizing lumber in manufacture, run the aggregate value each year to a handsome revenue. This, nevertheless, does not comprise by any means the entire value of Canada's timber to the country, and there is a large domestic consumption of which no record or statistics are available. Timber plays no small part in relation to the Dominion's first industry of agriculture, and the presence and availability of timber in agricultural sections means a great deal to the farmers' most needs, and makes for a general economy.

What are generally designated as the Prairie Provinces of Western Canada, which have, of recent years, become one of the first agriculturally producing regions of the world, are popularly supposed to be bare of any tree growth from their own forests. Those who know the region, however, are aware to what an extent the name is a misnomer. While the southern portion of the plain which the three provinces takes in appears to be a bald, denuded stretch, clumps of brush and trees are always to be found in the vicinity of watercourses, which are numerous, and in the region of the foothills. These supplies render a certain amount of timber available as well as providing shade and shelter to stock.

When one travels north, however, the prairie is left behind and one reaches what is a fairly, clearly defined division between the bald plain and the timber country. This growth is not in the nature of forest, but from the scattered and somewhat orderly distribution, with the appearance of having been especially laid out, has given to the country the description of parkland. The timber is never so dense or heavy as to impede or curtail ordinary farming operations, yet gives the farmer all the advantages which a tree growth possesses for a farming community. For his stock it is summer shade and winter shelter; for the farmer, fuel, fencing and material for building.

Where farmers have settled on the clearer sections of the parklands, or are indisposed to cut down their own trees, timber for their many needs can be cut on adjacent unfitted lands or on the Government forest reserves which have been held back from settlement and are to be found in many parts of the Western Provinces. Though these reserves have been made for the preservation of the timber, cutting is permitted to the mature timber to enable the trees to attain full growth, and for other reasons. There are more than 32,500 square miles of forest reserves in the Prairie Provinces which have at all times a large supply of surplus timber available for the many uses of the farming settlements about them.

In the North Battleford district of Saskatchewan, for instance, there is a forest reserve which is one of the most valuable assets of the rich farming country of the Battledore region. Farmers, who have a greater and wider need for timber than others, draw their supplies of fuel, fencing and building material from this source. Small private mills have been erected for the purpose of manufacturing lumber and the farmer secures the necessary material for his house and buildings very economically, from timber he has cut himself.

Nature in creating Western Canada has provided for many of the needs of the settlers to come, and in the timber, with which she dotted the country, is one of the farmer's most valuable assets.

Didn't know at first
Gentleman (on a walking tour in Scotland): "Boy, how long will it take me to walk to Millingavie?"
Boy: "Ah dhina ken."
Gentleman: "Do you live in these parts?"
Boy: "Ay."
Gentleman: "How old are you?"
Boy: "Eleven."
Gentleman: "And you can't tell me how long it will take to walk to Millingavie! Crass ignorance, I call it!" (Starts on his way.)
Boy (shouting): "Twill take ye about three hours."
Gentleman (angrily): "Why didn't you say so at first?"
Boy: "Hoo could I tell I saw ye walk!"

Four p.m. is said to be the rainiest hour of the whole twenty-four.

The average length of human life is 37 years.

World's Highest Inhabited Point

Men Spend Summer in Himalayas at Altitude of 18,400 Feet

What is the greatest height at which people live on the earth?

There is, it seems, a shepherd living with his family in the Andes at a height of 17,100 feet, and this has been claimed to be a record, that is, for permanent habitation.

When it comes to a question of a temporary abode, however, this altitude, great as it is, is easily beaten, for on one of the Himalayan passes, 18,400 feet high, a small band of hardy men live during the summer.

The men, numbering less than half a dozen, are Tibetan Custom House officers, and are specially selected for their powers of endurance, as one would expect them to be, in order to exist even for a few weeks in air which must contain so very much less oxygen than there is at sea level.

From such an elevated pass these men must have a magnificent view of the great Tibetan plateau, the inhabitants of which themselves seem to live comfortably at heights of 15,000 or more feet.

It would be interesting to know what height human beings could accustom themselves to live. There is no reason to suppose that 18,400 feet is the limit.

Singing Taught in Church

Westminster Abbey now gives lessons to her congregation in the art of interpreting church music. For a short period each Sunday, just before evening, an expert instructor is present to criticize and assist members of the church in their hymn and psalm singing.

This innovation of Westminster Abbey has, it is said, been practiced with much success in country churches. Let other religious centres go right ahead with the good work and make church singing the hale and hearty thing it ought to be.—London Answers.

For Return of Natural Resources

Premier King Offers Plan for Early Settlement

In a letter written to the premiers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, prime minister, outlined the proposal of the Government for returning the natural resources to the prairie provinces. Premier King's proposal, in a nutshell, is that the prairie provinces relinquish the subsidies which they have received in lieu of their lands and receive the resources.

"The shortest and simplest way of settlement, the one admitting of quick results, would be to ignore the transactions of the past and make a fresh start," the Premier says.

The Prime Minister states in his letter that the question of returning the natural resources has been complicated in the past by objections raised on the part of the other provinces, who have claimed that if the requests of the prairie provinces were granted, new conditions would arise which would entitle them (the other provinces) to compensation.

Speaking on behalf of the Government, he expresses the opinion that any claims on the part of the eastern provinces will probably be removed if it is understood that on receiving their natural resources, the prairie provinces will surrender the subsidies.

The Premier makes it clear that any arrangement arrived at is subject to the approval of Parliament.

Canoes for Far North

Sixty-eight canoes, including all models from the light craft to the larger vessels of the freight and cruiser type, left Edmonton recently from the Alberta Motor Boat Works for the trading posts of the far north. A consignment of twenty-one is destined in the spring for the Mackenzie River country, and an additional fifty for the use of the Hudson's Bay Company on the northern lakes.

Colonization Plans Now Occupying The Attention Of The Federal Government

Favors Waterway Project

U.S. President Says There Is Far-Seeing Vision in the Proposal

The administration plan for government aid for the United States Merchant Marine presented to the U.S. Congress by President Harding provides a subsidy of about $32,000,000 annually to be paid to United States shipowners by the diversion of 10 per cent of the nation's customs receipts to that purpose.

President Harding came out strongly in favor of the St. Lawrence waterways project in the course of his message to Congress on the ship subsidy bill. Alluding to the awakened interest in water transportation, Mr. Harding said:

"We have a new manifestation of this broadened vision in the enthusiasm of the great middle west for the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, by which it is intended to connect the Great Lakes ports with the marts of the world."

"There is far-seeing vision in the proposal and this great and commendable enterprise is inseparable from a great merchant marine."

Manitoba Rural Credits

In order to further promote the agricultural interests of the province the Manitoba Government has decided to increase loans advanced under the Rural Credits scheme. The limit now placed by the Act, $3,000,000, will probably be increased to $5,000,000. Hon. Edward Brown has announced. The policy of encouraging farmers to engage more extensively in stock raising by supplying well-bred dairy cattle on credit, will also be enhanced.

Urging that the Dominion Government evolve a national immigration policy based on the needs of the country and the adaptability of the immigrants, and insisting on a pre-dominance of British citizen amongst those admitted to the country, a deputation from the National Council of Women waited upon Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, and were promised that the resolution would be laid before the special cabinet sub-committee.

That there are many large colonization plans on foot which will likely be brought to the notice of the Government for support during the next few weeks, is the understanding of officials of the Department of Immigration. Among these is the plan of Col. J. S. Dennis, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who proposes to bring to Canada several hundreds of the demobilized Irish Constabulary with their families and settle them on dry and irrigated lands in Western Canada. Col. Dennis has returned to Canada and it is expected that Government approval of his plan will be sought in the near future.

Other interests are also stated to be taking an active part in colonization work.

So far as can be learned, efforts during the ensuing year are likely to be limited to attempts to bring out agricultural workers from the British Isles, with their families, for settlement on Canadian farms.

Italians Prosper in the Argentine

Have Control of Some of Most Important Industries

A local newspaper has just published a list of immigrants or descendants of immigrants from Italy numbering 111 whose combined fortunes gained in Argentina are estimated to exceed 1,000,000,000 pesos, or $424,500,000 in Canadian money. The list was published in connection with the forthcoming inauguration of a 5,000,000 peso clubhouse which the Italian colony of Buenos Aires has erected. Italians in Argentina are prominent in all branches of activity but to a large extent in industrial enterprises, some of the most important of which are controlled by them.

Letter Writing is Lost Art

Rush of Modern Life Leave No Time For

It is often said that good letters, such as our father and grandfathers used to write and receive, are no longer written. The pressure of modern life is such, so it is argued, and the rush so great, that there is no time for the pursuit of letter writing as an art. One cannot read the letters, say of Horace Walpole, without being conscious that something of beauty and value has disappeared from our life. Something must be done if an old and gracious art is not to be permanently lost, lost with the belief that education and refinement really have some value and charm.—Indianapolis News.

Universal Truths

Nations Can Only Pay Debts by Increased Production

Australia, still on the threshold of nationhood, has incurred a huge war debt, in addition to outstanding loans. When the people of Australia borrow millions these are not received as sovereigns and bank notes. They are obtained as goods for consumption, or represent credits for goods. And these millions of loan moneys must be repaid in goods, whether such be raw materials or manufactures. The immediate need is for increased production, for it is clear that the sooner the means to pay are provided the sooner will outstanding liabilities be discharged. The only way by which production can be increased is by working to increase it.—Australasian.

Work Pays

Everything in Life Teaches the Importance of Work

There is nothing so true as that work pays. If your roof leaks, you may replenish it; if your crop was poor last summer, you may improve it this summer, with more care and effort. Everything in life teaches the importance of work. If you are a woodcutter, and your axe is dull, a little work at the grindstone will improve it. It is all a question of industry; of taking pains; of being thrifty; and earning the respect of those with whom you are associated. But the cry now is for less work. The remedy is more work.—Howe's Monthly.

CANADIAN PEACE-TIME HEROES

The Phoenixians had no rule to cover it; there was nothing in the Amal code forcing men to rescue their brethren drowning at sea, but there is that in the heart of every British seaman, born of tradition, which does not permit him to pass by without aiding fellow seafarers in distress.

When the call went out from the French liner Hsin Tien asking for assistance last April on the coast of China the crew of the Canadian Pacific liner "Monteagle" heard the S.O.S. and hurried to the assistance of the fast sinking vessel.

It was in recognition of this act of bravery on the part of both the white and Chinese members of the crew of the "Monteagle" that the presentation of the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane Society medals and certificates were made recently on board the boat as she lay at the company's dock in Vancouver.

Official Proud of Men
Proud of the work of their men the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company plauded the presentation, having all company officials present and many prominent business men of the city.

In the absence of J. Yaux, assistant purser, Mrs. Yaux received her husband's medal and certificate. The C.P.R. recognized the bravery of the Chinese by monetary prizes several months ago when they were transferred to other ships.

"The story of the rescue is a thrilling one, though the reports of the officers of the 'Monteagle' are not devoted to 'high lights,' dealing simply with an outline of the actions taken. Captain Hosken's report read: On April 7, noon, we left Hong Kong. By midnight of that date the wind had increased to strong head winds and rough sea. On April 8 the wind continued and the sea was high, the vessel pitching and spraying the decks."

"At this time a steamer was sighted flying signals of distress. I am pleased to be able to report that we were able to rescue the whole crew of the unfortunate steamer with the exception of four of the Chinese sailors, who were apparently overcome when their own boat capsized on being put into the water. Owing to the strong winds and high seas, and the fact that only two boilers of the 'Monteagle' were working, it was hard to manoeuvre, adding greatly to the difficulty of the rescue crew."

French Boat

"The distressed steamer was the French vessel 'Hsin Tien,' of Saigon. At 9.30 a.m. the 'Monteagle' was in a position to lower her lifeboats and two of these were dispatched, one in charge of Chief Officer Ferguson and the other under First Officer Campbell. They had Chinese crews. About the same time the officers of the French vessel launched two boats, but one was capsized, and it is believed four of the Chinese seamen were drowned at the time. The other boat, with 16 Chinese, got safely away. The chief officer's boat successfully reached the 'Hsin Tien,' and called to the men on the steamer to jump, but owing to the high seas running the Chinese on board refused, but one white man made the attempt and was taken on board the lifeboat. The wind and sea drove the first officer's boat past the sinking vessel, and drifted leeward in spite of the efforts of the Chinese seamen. The 'Monteagle' shifted to leeward, picking up the 16 Chinamen in the 'Hsin Tien' boat, then took on the officer's, and finally at 11.45 a.m. picked up Mr. Campbell and his men. The 'Monteagle' Chinese were willing to venture again into the small boats, but Captain Hosken was convinced that they did not have sufficient stamina to stand the long fight necessary to operate the boats, so he called for a voluntary white crew. At 12.30 p.m. the volunteers got away, and an hour later were back with 18 persons. Great difficulty was experienced in getting the men off the wreck owing to the heavy seas. At 2 p.m. the lifeboat with its European crew again left the 'Monteagle.' The 'Hsin Tien' was getting very low in the water, and there were 31 men to save. Owing to the wind and sea the lifeboat, which was working down to the steamer from windward, missed the vessel and was driven to leeward. The 'Monteagle' swung around, picked up the boat and towed it to the wreck, bound for Swatow from Shanghai. She was off the Lanrock Islands, a very dangerous bit of water, when sighted at 8 a.m. The 'Monteagle' was asked to stand by,

and an hour later dropping her to where she could probably make the side of the 'Hsin Tien.' At 2 p.m. the last person was taken off the French ship, and 15 minutes later all were safe on the 'Monteagle.' The total rescued was six Europeans and 60 Chinese. At 4.30 p.m. the 'Hsin Tien' was sunk."

Praise for Rescue

"Early in the morning, when the 'Monteagle' was just getting busy to carry out the rescue work, the French mail steamer 'Amazon' came along, stopped and endeavored to get out a boat to help, but was unable to do so on account of the weather and sea. "All over the China coast the 'Monteagle' and her men were lauded for the splendid work which they accomplished. The manager of the Societe des Transports Maritimes de Chine, the captain and officers of the last steamer, tendered official thanks to them and presented them with an address of gratitude. The French consul-general at Shanghai wrote his heartfelt thanks to them. "Mr. G. M. Bosworth, chairman of the Canadian Pacific Steamships Company, Limited, wired to Captain E. Beetham, general superintendent at Vancouver, as follows: 'In connection with the rescue of the French steamer 'Hsin Tien' by the 'Monteagle,' please convey from directors of the company to Captain Hosken, Officers Ferguson and Campbell and to the members of the European and Chinese crew our appreciation of their gallant action. Directors are greatly pleased to have such brave men in their employ.—G. M. Bosworth."

Reciprocity Question Will Form Material For Debate At Ottawa

Ottawa.—The developments at Washington have brought declarations in regard to the reciprocity conversations which will be keenly discussed at Ottawa, and are likely to form material for debate in the coming session of Parliament. First comes the declaration by Mr. Fordney, chairman of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives, that the United States is not prepared to discuss a general reciprocal trade agreement at the present time. Such a declaration on the part of Mr. Fordney did not cause any surprise. Mr. Fordney is an advocate of high tariffs. The emergency tariff bill which is pressing on Canadian exports of farm produce to the United States bears his name. And it is not likely that Mr. Fordney's views on tariff legislation have lately undergone much change.

But, coupled with Mr. Fordney's declaration in this regard, is the intimation that President Harding has declared the intention to open negotiations with Canada once the pending tariff bill becomes law.

Here, it is felt in Ottawa, now lies the crux of the situation. Under the new tariff bill, the President is to be given power to modify rates to a certain extent; and the idea prevails that this was an important factor in Mr. Fielding's recent interview with President Harding. Mr. Fielding holds strongly to the reciprocity pact of 1911. But, as there is apparently no chance of its being favored by the present Congress, it is thought Mr. Fielding will now turn his attention to such steps as may lead primarily to modification of the present heavy tariff on Canadian wheat and cattle.

What concession on the part of Canada Mr. Fielding would grant as quid pro quo remains yet to be seen. Nor is it likely that important developments are likely till the situation clears at Washington and the new tariff bill becomes law. But that there will be keen questioning in the House of Commons with requests for full information is accepted as beyond doubt.

Thankful for Good Will

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles New Wish to be Left Alone
Shifnal, Eng.—The honeymoon of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles will be spent in seclusion at Weston Park. They expressed great gratitude for the tremendous display of good will at their wedding, but now they frankly wish to be left alone in their manor with its 11,000 acres of playgrounds.

There is no formality in the mansion and there are no court attendants or relatives. There are only a few servants whose purpose is to make the seclusion of the pair absolute. The telephone has been disconnected in order to make them secure from outside intrusion. It is the purpose of the couple not to leave the manor for at least a few days. In the meantime the great estate offers all they want in the way of diversion and exercise.

SASKATCHEWAN WOMAN RECOVERS

Found Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Melaval, Saskatchewan.—"I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised for women's troubles and I thought I would try it. I tried it and it has done me so much good in the two years in which I have been taking it that I feel I am a different woman since then. I recommend your Vegetable Compound as much as I can and you may use my letter as a testimonial."
—Mrs. Wm. J. Thomas, Melaval, Saskatchewan.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.
Mrs. Thomas writes that she is a different woman now. If you are suffering from troubles without reason, or feel all run down without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Thomas and many, many other women.
This medicine has been helping sick women nearly fifty years—surely a long record of service.

May Abandon

Coalition System

No Progress Towards Solution of Britain's Political Crisis

London.—The political crisis projected by the Prime Minister has made no progress toward solution, and nobody ventures a prediction as to how it will eventually be solved. In its essence it is less a personal conflict between Mr. Lloyd George and Sir George Younger, leader of the Conservative secessionists, than a symptom of the struggle on the part of the three principal parties, Conservative, Liberal and Labor, to abandon the Coalition system, which is generally considered to have outlived its usefulness and get back to the old party system.

In this struggle Mr. Lloyd George occupies somewhat an anomalous position inasmuch as, although head of the government, he has no direct control of the party funds or the electoral machinery since he is the accepted leader of neither the Conservative nor the Liberal party, each wing of the Coalition having retained its own party machinery.

Joffre in Pekin

RHEUMATISM?

Health is the Most Valuable Asset You Have. You cannot Afford to Neglect It.

Crofton, B. C.—"I was troubled for years with inflammatory rheumatism and rheumatic fever. I tried several cures for rheumatism, but did not receive any benefit from any of them. I had been in the hospital for months, being unable to walk. A friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets. After taking the first bottle I began to improve, and after taking six bottles I had no more rheumatism. I think Dr. Pierce's Ankle is the most wonderful medicine that any one can take for rheumatism. I have recommended these tablets to several of my friends and they, too, have all been benefited by them."
—Melville Collinson.

People are realizing that the kidneys, just as do the lungs, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs any one would do well to get Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets which are to be had nowadays at almost any drug store or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeport, Conn., for trial package and write for free, confidential medical advice.

KING GEORGE SUES PRESIDENT HARDING

ASKS DAMAGES FOR ALLEGED NON-DELIVERY OF CORNED BEEF

Fort Worth, Tex.—King George of Great Britain, through his attorneys, has filed a suit in district court here against President Harding, asking damages of $1,075 for the alleged non-delivery by the Rock Island Railroad of 64 cases of corned beef, during the war.

President Harding is a party to the suit because the railroad is the defendant and the United States Government had control of the railroads for a period during the war. King George was the only plaintiff named in the suit. According to the suit, the corned beef, which was to be shipped from here to Hoboken, N.J., never was delivered.

Wage Agreement

Would Facilitate Making Contracts and Help the Farmer

Victoria.—Unemployment in Canada at present is 5 or 6 per cent. greater than at the corresponding time last year. Bryce M. Stewart, director of employment service, Ottawa, told officials of the four western provinces of the employment service of Canada when the annual conference opened at the parliament buildings here.

Prospects of improvement, said Mr. Stewart, depend partly on employers and employees reaching agreements on wage scales to enable the making of contracts with some certainty as to future costs. Improvement in employment conditions in agricultural Canada, he continued, will be brought about by restoration of the farmers' purchasing power, either through better prices for farm produce or lower cost of commodities which the farmer must buy.

The Pas.—C. B. Morgan's team, driven by Bill Grayson, finished first in The Pas dog derby, with all dogs in excellent condition. Grayson reports that he and Theo Dupas, driving the Dupas-Bancroft team, arrived at Ware House, fifty miles from The Pas on the return trip together, where he left Dupas and proceeded alone.

Morgan's team won last year's race. His time was 24 hours and 51 minutes for the 200 miles, establishing a world's record.

Dupas, who finished second made the course in 25 hours and 35 minutes. His dogs were fresh and he himself is fairly well considering he came out of the hospital and started on the race.

Solomon Cook finished third in 27 hours and 2 minutes in his fourth, his time being 27 hours and 14 minutes.
Cook and Pranteau both drove nine dogs, the former bringing one home on the sled, and the latter two. The drivers of the winning teams fed three times during the trip.

Canada's Enormous Coal Reserves Add To Our National Wealth

Ottawa.—In the course of his address before the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, C. V. Corless, president of the institute, referred to Canada's enormous pre-cambrian area surrounding Hudson Bay, as a veritable treasure house of minerals, where real prospecting had scarcely begun. This area included the nickel mines at Sudbury, silver mines at Cobalt and gold mines at Porcupine, one of which might soon reach the position of the world's greatest producer.

Referring to the great pre-cambrian area, which comprises 90 per cent. of the province of Quebec, Mr.

Corless predicted that enormous mineral treasures awaited discovery by "the thrifty people of this province."

Mr. Corless referred to the tremendous coal reserves in Canada, estimated at 1,234,000,000 tons or 35,000 times the present annual consumption. He pointed out that though Canada was spoken of as an agricultural country, only 15 per cent. of the area of the Dominion was suitable for cultivation, while 90 per cent. would undoubtedly produce great mineral wealth. He suggested that the mining industry should receive a large share of Government assistance.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one day bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and by their use the baby will be able to conquer the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Board made the census with an eye on the forthcoming made-in-Edmonton exposition to be held in the spring.

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions which any woman can dye or tint her worn, shabby dresses, skirts, waists, coats, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything, even if it has been once dyed before. The "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then give you back your color, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to spot, fade or stain. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is silk, wool, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

A Useful By-product

Tons of Bobbed Hair Are Made Into Mattresses

The momentum of the bobbed hair fad has reached a record pace in Chicago.

Careful investigation reveals that salons of local hairdressers are exporting a daily toll from 2,500 women, ranging in age from flappers to state-ty, white-haired matrons.

If the present rate is maintained, all the women in Chicago will be bobbed by October 22 next, a hairdresser said. This authority figures that $61,631 hours daily will be saved if all the women here bob their hair.

The average amount of hair shorn in a bobbing is about three ounces. Although this hair is unsuitable for use as switches and transformations, it is excellent for mattresses, and it is estimated that more than 3,000 class A full width mattresses, can be made as a by-product of the bobbing industry in Chicago.

"What sort of a woman is Mrs. Guff?" asked Mrs. Muff. "Well," replied Mrs. Duff. "She's one of those women who could wear a $10,000 necklace and make it look like it came from the 10-cent store."

It pays to patronize home industry. Buy from the merchants in your own town.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Tea and coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty—much no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

A Cheap Type of Silo to Build

Since silos and ensilage is the chief topic under discussion among stock-breeders and farmers alike, these days, probably the following outline of a cheaply-built silo will be appreciated by some.

Prepare a concrete circular base for the silo by excavating to the depth of two feet or so the desired width of the foundation. Probably 18 inches will be found satisfactory. All the earth inside may be taken out if desired thus having part of your silo underground. Now fill in your concrete to ground level or so, as no forms are needed unless the interior has been excavated. This done, prepare to erect two by four studding at a distance of sixteen inches or so apart around this base keeping two or three inches from being flush with the inside. When the studding are erected and forms built, fill in with concrete, sloping it from the outside of the base to a perpendicular height of a foot or 16 inches at the inside, thus embedding your studding in concrete.

This construction not only resists the outward push of the silage, but resists windstorms as well.

The material used for the walls of this silo consists of resawn lumber and far-paper. On the inside one ply of the resawn material, which is readily bent to shape, is put on horizontally and well nailed to the studding. Over this two ply of far paper is put on carefully. Over this again another ply of resawn lumber is put on, care being taken to have the lower cracks well lapped each time. If it is desired the silo could be sheathed up on the outside partly for appearance, but largely to avoid freezing of the ensilage. This type of silo well nailed should not need hoops, but in a large one three or four would be a good precaution. Any form of roof desired may be put on, care being taken to leave the dead air space between studding open at the top for drying purposes. Wedge doors may be put in, as many as desired, doors which wedge from the inside and fasten with a large button and thumb screw on the outside to tighten them.

A silo so constructed should give years of service at a reasonable cost. Nearly every farmer can do what work is required himself, both concrete and carpentry. He can figure the cost of the material for the size he desires at his own home or town. Such a silo has many advantages over the pit silo in its convenience for feeding from, in fact about all the conveniences of a high priced silo.
